

LONG VERSION -

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHER K-3
GOETHE INTERNATIONAL CHARTER SCHOOL

Are you interested in working at an exciting, new, small charter school in Westchester?

Goethe International Charter School (GICS) of Los Angeles is opening its doors in September of 2008 in Westchester, Los Angeles with 120 students in grades K-3 and is looking for dynamic, highly qualified teachers who are interested in foreign languages and ready to take on leadership roles.

The school will offer a site-based foreign language immersion program (English/German) where 50% of the instruction will occur in German and 50 % in English. All subject content will be taught in both languages; however each teacher will teach in either English or German—not both languages. In addition, the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme (IBPYP) will be developed and implemented to provide students with an international education.

Teacher Responsibilities

- Implement GICS educational model
- Understand and implement CA State Standards
- Coordinate and plan instruction with grade level teams
- Use assessments to drive instruction
- Work collaboratively with Principal, Language Coordinators, and faculty
- Work cooperatively with families
- Participate in all school-funded professional development
- Follow all policies and procedures in the GICS handbook

Requirements:

- A bachelor's degree;
- A California multiple subject credential or an University Intern Permit (for no more than three years while actively working toward completion of state credential)
- CLAD or BCLAD certificates
- Hold "highly qualified" NCLB status or evidence toward achievement
- Demonstrated subject competency through appropriate examination or coursework
- A Background Clearance from FBI/DOJ
- TB Clearance
- A commitment to team-teaching in a foreign language immersion / IBPYP program
- A commitment to train in the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Program
- Bilingual German/English and/or English/Spanish encouraged

Please send your cover letter and resume to: anne@goethecharterschool.org by June 30th, 2008 policies and procedures.

What we offer:

A salary comparable to LAUSD, full benefits, a collaborative and exciting workplace.

SHORT VERSION:
ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHER
GOETHE INTERNATIONAL CHARTER SCHOOL

Goethe International Charter School (GICS) of Los Angeles is opening its doors in September of 2008 in Westchester, Los Angeles with 120 students in grades K-3 and is looking for dynamic, highly qualified teachers who are interested in foreign languages and ready to take on leadership roles.

The school will offer a site-based foreign language immersion program (English/German) where 50% of the instruction will occur in German and 50 % in English. All subject content will be taught in both languages; however each teacher will teach in either English or German—not both languages. In addition, the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme (IBPYP) will be developed and implemented to provide students with an international education.

If you are interested in team teaching in a school with an international curriculum (based on the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme) and hold a California multisubject credential or an University Intern Permit (for no more than three years while actively working toward completion of their credential), and CLAD or BCLAD certificates please send your cover letter and resume to: anne@goethecharterschool.org by June 30th, 2008.

What we offer:

A salary comparable to LAUSD, full benefits, a collaborative and exciting workplace.